

REVITALIZING THE INDUSTRIAL TRAINING PROGRAMS

Although all the degree programs of the faculty had a six month industrial training program at the final year, finding suitable placements has been one of the major difficulties the faculty experienced during the time. So, this activity mainly focused to strengthen the industrial training program through developing long term relationship between suitable industrial establishments and preparing students to meet the industry expectation. To achieve these objectives, following main activities were carried out.

1. Establishment of industrial training unit at the faculty

A separate unit was newly established at the faculty under and a direct and coordinator for each degree program were appointed to facilitate the industrial training program. These officers constantly communicate with the industry for securing training placements and providing various services to the industry. This unit helps to maintain health university-industry collaboration which brings mutual benefits for both parties.

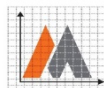

2. Development and signing of MOUs with industry

The faculty has signed 15 MOUs with various organizations and the main focus of these MOUs is to secure industrial training placements for our students. During the period 150 training placements were received through these MOUs.

3. Incorporation of Continuous Professional Development (CPD) program

Feedbacks received from the industrial training organizations highlighted the further development of soft skills of our students. With that Professional Skills Development (PSD) program (with credit) was introduced to the new curricular implement in 2020. The students are actively participating in this program and they are really happy. Through this program our students can meet key players in the industry and learn from their life stories.
